TTI Asia Announces 2010 Supplier Excellence Award Winner

February 7, 2011. TTI Asia today announced the winners of its 2010 Supplier Excellence Award.

Sam CW Sung, Director, Asia Product Marketing, made the announcement. “We are extremely pleased to announce the winners for our 2010 Supplier Excellence Award are Bourns Asia Pacific, Kemet Electronics Asia, Littelfuse Far East and Vishay Intertechnology Asia.”

Bourns Asia Pacific, Kemet Electronics Asia, Littelfuse Far East and Vishay Intertechnology Asia have been honored with the highest award level given in TTI Asia. All four suppliers have achieved the highest scores in all major related areas of the supplier program in 2010.

The program is centered on quality measurements which include: on-time delivery, receiving quality, customer quality, administrative quality and business systems. In addition, there also are performance measurements including sales results, profitability and percent growth.

This is the fourth year that TTI Asia has given out the Supplier Excellence Award. The intend of this program is to foster continuous improvement in supplier and distributor performance, by providing monthly performance results to all suppliers. Overall supplier performance has substantially improved since the inception of the recognition program.
