The recommended replacement parts listed above are not direct equivalents to the obsolete parts. However, their electrical and mechanical specifications are expected to be suitable for typical applications. Customers should review the relevant Bourns datasheets or contact a Bourns Application Engineer for additional guidance. Customers should also evaluate the suggested replacement parts in their specific applications to ensure satisfactory performance.

Customers may continue to place orders for the obsolete part numbers during the End of Product Life transition period through November 2, 2026. Bourns will treat orders placed during this period as non-cancellable and non-returnable and will cover them under the standard Bourns warranty terms. Samples are available upon request.
