| Change Details:    | As of today, the impacted parts show Indonesia as their country of origin. The main ceramic element and electrodes are manufactured in Japan, then the parts are shipped to Indonesia where leads were attached to the parts and packaged for customers. The products are shipped out afterwards with a label that showed country of origin as Indonesia. Effective October 1 st , 2026 the packaging labels will show Japan as the country of origin since the main ceramic element and electrodes are produced at a Panasonic factory in Japan. This is just a labelling change to comply with the country of origin rules in the United States, there are no changes to the current production procedure. |
| Affected Parts:    | Please see attached parts list.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
