Change Detail
Description of Change	The RC, RCP and CAR series data sheet has been updated with maximum resistance value up to 1M Ohm. All the part numbers above 1M Ohm will be no longer be available as standard product
Reason for Change	Reason for PCN is that the maximum Ohmic value that is available as standard product has reduced due to commercial reasons
Implementation Plan	Production will continue as per the updated data sheet
Customer Impact	No impact to customers other than values above 1M are no longer available to order as standard data sheet products. Higher values may still be available at economic volumes but must be requested by contacting the factory.
Recommendations	No action required, this PCN is for information only.
Availability of Previously Manufactured Product	Values above 1M may still available at economic volumes but must be requested by contacting the factory.
Availability of Approval Samples	Not applicable: products have not changed so no reapproval required.
